

Exploring China

Some favorite photos taken during three trips to China with Weifang. The first trip was in October 2003, the second trip was in October 2004, and the third was in June 2011.

```
ngg_shortcode_0_placeholder"
template="/home3/charestn/public_html/wp-content/plugins/nextgen-
gallery/products/photocrati_nextgen/modules/ngglegacy/view/gal lery.php" order_by="imagedate" order_direction="ASC" returns="included" maximum_entity_count="500"]
```

(Note on metadata: the timestamps for the 2011 photos are 12 hours behind actual photo time, due to not resetting the camera's clock for China local time.)

During our fourth trip, Winnie and I visited Xi'an and were able to tour the archeological sites of the Terracotta Warriors. I felt these amazing figures deserved their own gallery in my humble photo collection.

A Terracotta Warrior Standing Guard

Use the "Slide" link to step through the photos in sequence.
Move your cursor over the images to read the description.